

Gearmax Area 51 - UFO - Video

2008 Gearmax USA Ltd.

LABORATORY - AREA 51

Older professor and younger assistant are in a laboratory examining a GearMax backpack . The pack is on an examining table. They are speaking to third (unseen) person.

PROFESSOR

Recently unclassified documents and debris from the Roswell Crash Site has produced the UFO's carry-on backpack...

ASSISTANT

(Clearing his throat for attention)

PROFESSOR

...that my assistant found on the ship.

ASSISTANT

(Smiling Proudly)

CAMERA ZOOMS ON GEARMAX LOGO INDIVIDUAL LETTERS AT ODD ANGLE, SLOWLY PANNING BACK TO SHOW ENTIRE LOGO

PROFESSOR

After careful study...these strange markings found on the pack was found to read G..E..A..R..M..A..X!
(Drawing out the name emphasising the letter sounds in a humorous way)

ASSISTANT

Yep...GearMax
(Saying it now normally)
It's Gearmax all right
(Nodding his head)

PROFESSOR

(Looking a little agravated)
Hmmm...Yes, Gearmax.
(saying it now normally)
Well, it's obvious to see the Gearmax pack is light years ahead in backpack design.

Professor holds backpack up and unzips the main compartment, letting it hang to expose internal pockets

PROFESSOR

Notice that with one zip the backpack transforms into a hanging locker system with ventilated organizer pockets. Amazing! With just a quick glance a complete inventory can be realized.

ASSISTANT

Smart!
(Nodding head)

PROFESSOR

Uh....yes.
(Turning his head briefly to his assistant)
Well...this Gearmax pack was even engineered with this top pocket for quick access from the outside without the need to open the pack. When this transitional zipper is activated the contents can be accessed from this side.
(demonstrates)

ASSISTANT

(Leaning in to look at the pocket)

PROFESSOR

(Still annoyed)
The quality of construction would indicate extremely long space trips were planned...this thing was built to last.

With reverse engineering, this design will soon allow the pack to be available to everyone for every day use...

ASSISTANT

WHOA!!
(Looking like he just had a great idea)
Imagine using this in a locker room in a gym, or for baseball, soccer, tennis.

PROFESSOR

I was thinking fishing, hunting, camping or to bring boating.

Female Scientist walks in from side and pauses briefly upon seeing the backpack.

FEMALE SCIENTIST

Oh Good! You found my Gearmax backpack that I had left on the ship.

(As she walks by she picks up the backpack, zips it shut, and slings it over her shoulder)

It makes great carry on luggage.

Female scientist briskly walks away with backpack.

ASSISTANT

(Excited he's made a discovery)

Oh...Oh..! That explains the environmental protective skin layering device we found in the pack!

PROFESSOR

(Speaking while lowering his head)

That was her make-up
(With his voice trailing off)

ASSISTANT

(Looking in the direction the female scientist just walked)

I gotta getta gearmax!

OUTSIDE AREA 51 - PARKING LOT

Female scientist walks to car with Gearmax pack slung over shoulders. Unlocks car and places the pack in the trunk. Closes trunk.

CLOSE UP: CAMERA SHOT OF GOTTA GETTA GEARMAX STICKER ON TRUNK

Car drives away.
